

NEUROIMMUNOLOGICAL COLLOQUIUM @ AG Paul

Spring/Summer 2018

Mondays at 14:00h

Charité Mitte Campus – Universitätsmedizin Berlin

Ferdinand Sauerbruch Hörsaal 4, Hufelandweg 6

April 16th	Prof. Dr. Stefan Gold, PhD Department of Psychiatry, Charité-Universitätsmedizin Berlin, Germany Higher order brain dysfunction in MS: Dissecting clinical correlation & shared pathobiology
April 23rd	Doktorand Lunch Series
April 30th	Kerstin Ritter, PhD Bernstein Center for Computational Neuroscience Berlin, Germany Machine vs. deep learning for characterizing structural MRI data in MS & Alzheimer's
May 7th	Lars Janshen, PhD Department of Training and Movement Sciences Modular control of human walking in healthy and MS patients
May 14th	Athina Papadopoulou, MD Neurologische Klinik und Poliklinik, Universitätsspital Basel, Switzerland Changes in thalamic subnuclei in NMOSD
May 21st	Martin Weygandt, PhD Bernstein Center for Computational Neuroscience Berlin, Germany Functional neuroimaging of cognitive processes in MRI
May 28th	Sarah-Christin Starobom, PhD Department of Immunology, Charité - Universitätsmedizin Berlin, Germany Remyelination in the CNS
June 4th	Doktorand Lunch Series
June 11th	Prof. Halina Machelska, PhD Department of Anesthesiology & Critical Care Medicine, Charité - Universitätsmedizin Berlin, Germany Mechanisms of pathological pain
June 25th	Herald Prüß, MD Experimental Neurology, Charité-Universitätsmedizin Berlin, Germany Brain-targeting antibodies in encephalitis, psychosis and dementia
 WEDNESDAY SPECIAL July 11th	Jacqueline Palace, MD Nuffield Department of Clinical Neurosciences, University of Oxford, U.K. Congenital myasthenia syndromes
July 16th	Gabriele C. De Luca, MD, PhD Nuffield Department of Clinical Neurosciences, University of Oxford, U.K. The interplay between inflammation and neurodegeneration in multiple sclerosis

