Curriculum vitae

Since 2018	Speaker for SFB 1315 - Mechanisms and Disturbances in Memory Consolidation: From synapses to systems
Since 2011	Full professor (W3), Neurobiology, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin
2004 – 2011	Professor, Swiss National Science Foundation (SNSF), Institute of Physiology, Universität Bern, CH
1997 – 2003	Postdoctoral fellow, Max Planck Institute for Medical Research, Heidelberg
1992 – 1996	PhD, Institute of Physiology, Universität Bern, CH
1991	First class honours in Physiology, University of Sydney, AU
1987 – 1990	Bachelor of Science, University of Sydney, AU

Research fields

Our group focuses on the processing of feedforward and feedback information in the cortex, and particularly, on the contribution of active dendritic properties to the computational power of neocortical pyramidal neurons. Recent topics include:

- Dendritic spikes in the tuft and basal dendrites of neocortical pyramidal neurons
- Memory consolidation with active dendritic mechanisms
- Mechanisms underlying perceptual processes
- Development of behavioural methodologies for rodents
- Inhibitory control of cortical microcircuits
- Cellular basis for interhemispheric inhibition in the cerebral cortex
- The relationship between machine learning and the brain
- Effects of common anesthetics on single-cell computation in the cortex
- Development of state-of-the-art optical approaches for studying cortical dendritic activity

Activities in the scientific community, honors, awards

2015	European Research Council (ERC), Advanced Grant
2010	Robert Bing Prize, Swiss Academy of Medical Sciences, CH
2008	Pfizer Research Award in Neurosciences and Diseases of the Nervous System, CH
2006	Theodor Kocher Prize, CH
2003	Nikon Research Fellowship, Woods Hole Research Laboratories, US
2002	Woods Hole Research Fellowship, US
1999 – 2001	Postdoctoral scholarship, Max Planck Society (MPG)
1997 – 1998	Humboldt Research Fellowship for Postdoctoral Researchers, Alexander von Humboldt Foundation
1992 – 1995	Australian Postgraduate Research Award
